Dear Friends,

“I shall be filled when I awake, with the sight of your glory, O Lord” we respond to Psalm 16 today. During November our thoughts turn to remember those who have died, and in both the church and civil society we engage in a solemn Remembrance. Next Sunday we have public remembrance of those who died in wars and conflicts. who have now gone before us. Every time we come to Mass we obey the command of our Lord to his disciples, when he told them and us, at the Last Supper, “Do this in remembrance of me” (1 Corinthians 11:25 RSV). In the Mass we are present and engaged in the greatest act of Remembrance in celebrating the Lord’s Supper, his passion, death and resurrection. We do not just think of past events, which are made present to us in the here and now, but we also remember the needs of the living and the dead and offer them to the Lord who saves all people and gives them a share in his glory in the presence of his Father in heaven.

The reading from 2 Maccabees 7:1-14 speaks of the torture and terrible sufferings of the young men from the same family. But it also shows their courageous, faithful and loving mother supporting, encouraging and standing by them in the cause of right. In many ways that mother has a likeness to the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of Jesus, who accompanied him on his last journey and stood by him as he suffered and died on the cross, out of love for his Father and mankind.

The Sadducees were unable to grasp the meaning of resurrection and life after death, and they ask our Lord materialistic and worldly centred questions (Luke 20:27-38). Without the gift of faith, they are unable, to grasp the meaning of eternal life and to understand how the needs and limitations of the body no longer rule a person’s life, and obscuring the love and fulfilment we receive from being with God.

The Mass is the most powerful form of prayer in Catholic tradition. We have Christ who intercedes for us with God our Father, present to us at Mass. Through him, and with the prayerful support of the community, we offer the needs of the living and dead to God our Father. People who wish to have a Mass offered for a person or intention can ask a priest, deacon or parish office. We need the name of the person and preferred date and time. Envelopes for Mass intentions are now in the church.
May the Lord bless and protect you and your families. Fr John
